Royal Country Club of Tangier

Founded in 1914, the Tangier Royal Country Club is the first golf course in the Mediterranean basin, one of the oldest in Africa and the oldest in Morocco. Modified by the famous English architects Cotton and Pennink, then renovated in 2001 by Peter Harradine, the Tangier Royal Golf Club offers a quality game in a natural and authentic setting. Located in the city centre, the Tangier golf course extends over an area of approximately 65 hectares.

The course has 18 holes, 6060 meters, par 70 and is spread over a hilly terrain covered with forests. The 18 holes undulate through cypress, pine, fir and eucalyptus trees.

Technical, this course offers a hilly part and a flat part for a game sometimes difficult, sometimes simple, with some surprises...

Golf Cabo Negro

For the purposes of the Throne Cup held in July 2017, Cabo Negro Golf Beach, a club in the vicinity of Tetouan, underwent a major renovation and restoration program.

This was richly deserved given the quality of the layout. Originally built as a 9-hole course by the architectural firm Hawtree & Sons, this golf course was later redesigned and extended to 18 holes by Cabell B. Robinson, the architect of the Royal Golf El Jadida or the Royal Palm in Marrakech.

Winding through the sand dunes, this course takes on all the appearance of links on the return holes with magnificent views of the Mediterranean and the foothills of the Rif.

Teelal Saïdia

Teelal is a course designed by Nicolas Joakimides, which is played on the sand and along the beach. The dune grasses, brooms, old fashioned bunkers and exposed sand give it a wild look.

It is designed to be playable by all since the balls are easily found, there are no water obstacles or rough. The front greens are large, so there are no long ball carries to make. Some slopes can even help you.

This is the ideal course for women and seniors, easy to play and walk. The slopes, undulations in the terrain and wind bring variety and encourage creative play. "I've done everything to make this course beautiful, accessible and exciting to play.

Golf Saïdia Lacs

About sixty kilometers from Oujda, in the east of the Kingdom, Saïdia is a seaside resort in full expansion since the Azur Plan made it a major axis of its development policy in the Oriental region.

In 2009, the first 18-hole golf course, Saïdia Lacs, was opened. Designed by the Spanish architect Francisco Segales, this golf course features water obstacles.

Some holes are very risky, like the two par 4s on 8 and 7, where the greens can be attacked with the driver! But beware of the wind, we are still on the seaside!

Royal Golf Dar Es Salam

The certificate of excellence

Located in a forest of cork oaks just outside Rabat, on the road to Rommani, the Royal Golf Dar Es Salam is the most renowned club in Morocco. Not only is it the only one with three courses (2 x 18 holes and a 9-hole course) but it also hosts the Hassan II Trophy, a prestigious professional tournament now on the European circuit.

Designed by the great American architect Robert Trent Jones Sr, the courses have undergone major upgrades in recent months. The most emblematic 18-hole course of this capital city club is the Rouge.

On this remarkable course, a few holes force the admiration as the 9, a par 3 and its green in island, the 11 and its columns of Volubilis or the 12, a long par 5 and its cascades. The other 18 holes, the Blue, host of the Lalla Meryem Cup, is shorter but very technical.

This club is open to visitors.

Dar Chrifa - Rabat

Dar Chrifa is a real jewel hidden in the heart of the medina of Rabat.

This prestigious house belonged to Lala HNYA, daughter of Moulay Ismaël, brother of Hassan 1 son of Sidi Mohamed Ben Abderrahmane, and has retained all its charm of yesteryear while being renovated with baroque elements.

The designer Amal GUESSOUS has created a majestic setting through its history and architecture, with a touch of Rock 'n Roll.

Located in the ancestral district of the medina, the Riad is close to the souks and easy to access. You can immerse yourself in the Moroccan atmosphere by visiting traditional stores and discovering local products.

The Riad has 4 luxurious suites with private bathroom and view on the inner courtyard. The terrace offers a breathtaking view of the city and the sea, ideal for a drink at sunset.

The exceptional Moroccan cuisine is designed by the starred chef Rachid Agouray, for an unforgettable dinner.

Dar Chrifa is also ideal for private or professional events, with the possibility of renting the Riad exclusively. Do not hesitate to contact us to book your stay or to organize your next event in this magical place.

Royal Golf Dar Es Salam

Designed by the great American architect Robert Trent Jones Sr., the courses have undergone major upgrades in recent months.

The most emblematic 18-hole course of this capital city club is the Rouge. On this remarkable course, a few holes force the admiration as the 9, a par 3 and its green in island, the 11 and its columns of Volubilis or the 12, a long par 5 and its cascades.

The other 18 holes, the Blue, host of the Lalla Meryem Cup, is shorter but very technical. This club is open to visitors.

Architect: Robert Trent Jones Senior

Riad la Porte du Bouregreg

The word "riad" in Arabic means "garden", in Morocco in particular it refers to an architectural form of traditional housing, built around a garden or an inner courtyard.

Riad La Porte du Bouregreg and its restaurant Ô Saveurs de la Médina welcome you in a decor combining authenticity, modernity, charm and tradition in a relaxed atmosphere made of meetings and sharing.

Located at the entrance of the Medina of Salé, twin city of Rabat, our Riad is accessible by car and ideally located for your walks. Indeed the authentic Medina of Salé is just a few steps away, the Marina and the beautiful beach of Salé are only 5mn walk, the nearest streetcar station and the ONCF station just over 5mn walk. You can also go to Rabat by taking the boat service, also less than 5 minutes walk.

Our Riad is organized on several floors. On the first floor is the patio with 3 comfortable lounges and 3 different atmospheres where you can sit, drink a tea or simply read and have all your meals in winter time. On the upper floors are our 3 Suites and our Standard Room. On the top floor, our Hammam will welcome you for a moment of relaxation, which can be extended by a professional massage.

Finally, on the roof of the Riad you can discover a splendid terrace which offers a magnificent view of the monuments of Rabat, the beautiful beach of Salé, the ocean and the Kasbah of Ouddeyas. From March to October you can have all your meals on this terrace, from breakfast to dinner under the stars in the evening. These dinners will sometimes be animated by a traditional musician or the owners who will interpret some of their favorite songs. During this period, life in the Riad takes place mainly on the roof terrace, between moments of idleness, sunbathing or moments of exchange between residents around a drink at the bar.

Marhaba, Welcome, Welcome
Sarah & Jean-Luc

Montgomerie Rabat Plage des Nations

After Marrakech, Colin Montgomerie has continued his collaboration with Prestigia by creating The Montgomerie Rabat, in Sidi Bouknadel, north of Rabat.

Overlooking the immense Nations beach, the real estate group has imagined an 18-hole golf course and a vast real estate and leisure program. However, the sea is almost never seen on this course: just behind the green of the 6th.

Due to a land problem that has not yet been solved, this strategically very interesting course is only a par 69 and requires a long passage after hole 10 to find the rest of the course!

Barcelo Fès Medina

Staying in style in Fez, cradle of wisdom

Barceló Fès Medina* is an urban hotel, a true haven of peace, located just beside the medina. The hotel is 5 minutes from the railway station and 20 minutes from the international airport of Fez - Saïss. The city of Fez is the first imperial city of Morocco declared World Heritage by UNESCO.

This recently built hotel is composed of 134 rooms that combine comfort and functionality, as evidenced by its modern rooms decorated in a contemporary style and equipped with designer furniture.

It houses an international restaurant, where you can enjoy typical Moroccan dishes and a Jazz Bar where cocktails are served. It also has a fully equipped spa where guests can relax with one or more treatments, a session in the sauna, hammam, or even the fitness room to stay in shape.

The Barceló Fez Medina was conceived as a modern hotel near an ancient medina and offers functional spaces, design and equipped with all the amenities that a demanding traveler can desire to spend a dream stay in a magical city.

Health and sports facilities

The Barceló Fès Medina has an outdoor swimming pool available all year round, in addition to a terrace and solarium where you can swim and sunbathe at any time of the year.

But if guests want to keep fit, the place to be is, without a doubt, the magnificent fitness center with exercise bikes, weight machines and weights that the hotel provides.

For guests looking for a more invigorating stay, the hotel offers the organization of excursions (additional costs and advance registration), in addition to a golf course nearby.

The hotel's spa is where guests can experience the oriental tradition of hamman. Other facilities such as a sauna, a massage service to invigorate the body and mind, and a beauty salon are accessible without having to leave the building.

Golf Oued Fès

Oued Fès Golf is a creation of Jonathan Gaunt, the famous Scottish architect, internationally renowned. Let yourself be seduced by its magnificent course of 6243 meters, 18 holes, par 72, and by its refined design, marrying with elegance wooded and humid areas.

Oued Fes Golf offers you the opportunity to live a unique experience: carts, carts and golf bags for rent are at your disposal as well as a pro shop and private parking.

This 18-hole championship course, Par 72, is characterized by fairways winding through the woods and along the wadi, where lagoons and water features have been placed on both sides of the canal, to offer golfers a unique playing experience. Its design meets the needs of golfers of all levels.

To perfect your technique, the Golf Academy allows you to learn or improve your golf game. The large driving range offers hours of practice in a natural environment and the approach greens and putting green complete the set.

Golf Oued Fès

This golf course in the center of the city is aptly named as it is crossed by a wadi.

Of the two courses in this imperial city, this one is better suited to heavy hitters.

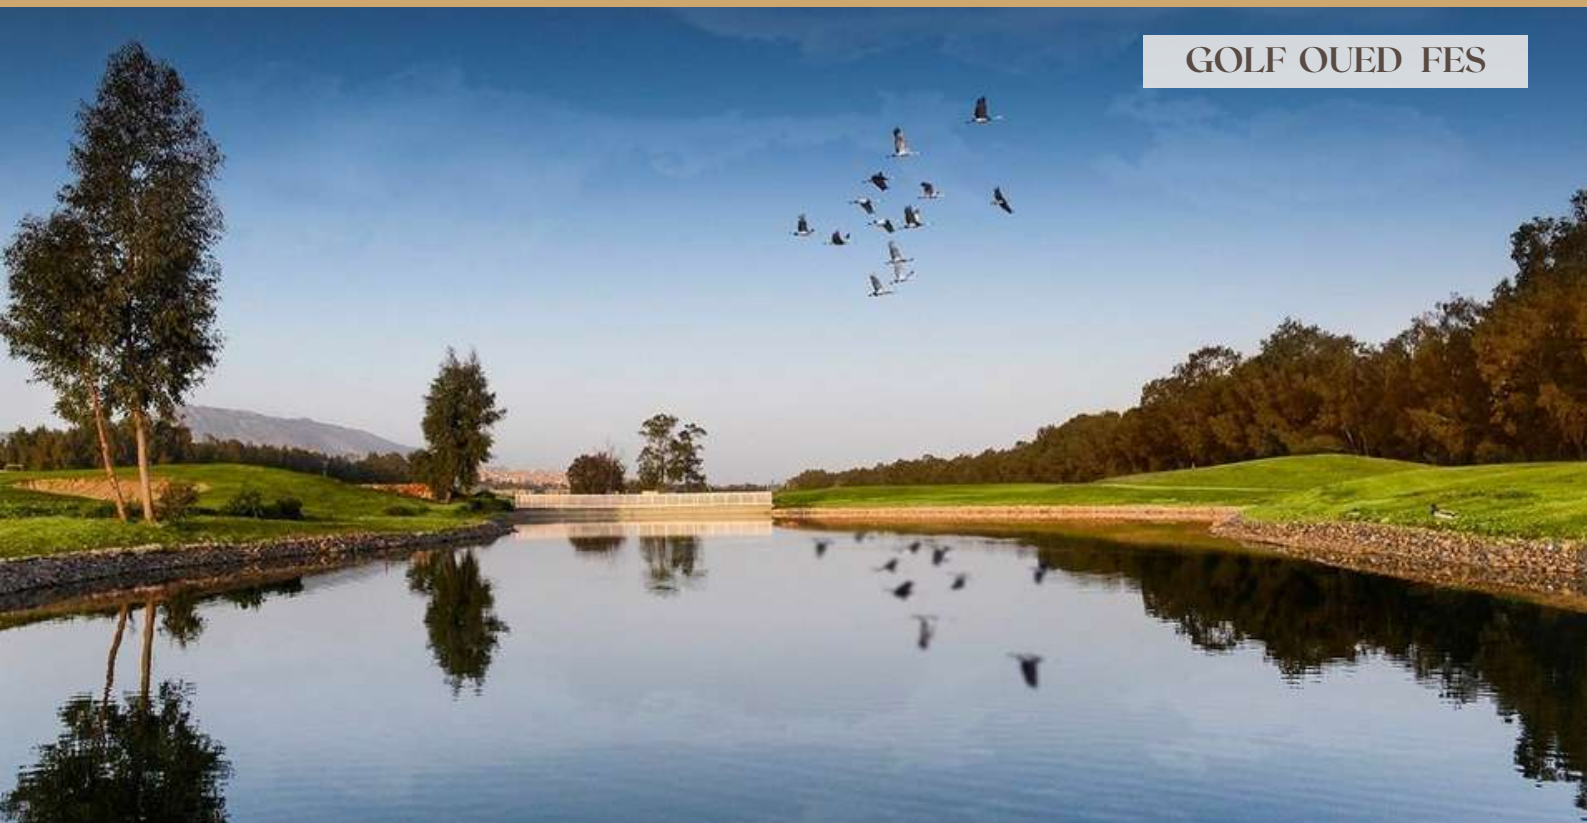

The holes are long and well defended by water hazards and numerous bunkers.

On this golf course divided into three distinct zones, wooded, marshy and desert type, the architect Jonathan Gaunt raised all the holes of 1,50 m compared to the level of overflow of the wadi.

Course: 18 holes - Par 72 - Length: 6243m

Royal Golf Anfa Mohammedia

Mohammedia golf course is an 18-hole, par 72 course, nicknamed "the Scottish". It is a real link always under the prevailing winds. Undulating fairways and small greens characterize it. Sometimes by the sea, sometimes in the forest, the greenery is omnipresent: eucalyptus, mimosas broom and palm trees. The golf course is equipped with a club house, restaurant and driving range.

The Mohammedia course is known by all golfers in Morocco for being a haven of peace in Moroccan golf. Its idyllic setting has hosted over the past three years nearly eighty competitions including the most prestigious initiated by the Royal Moroccan Golf Federation (FRMG).

Particular attention has been paid to the upgrading of the course, through important investments, even if not visible, allowing to ensure a total recovery of the watering system providing the site with an autonomy thanks to the increase of the capacities of the OSMOSE station. The annual reports posted regularly by the International Greenkeeper George Stillwell, note the very good quality of the course and the improvements made each year.

Of course, additional efforts must continue to be made to keep all the particular character and charm of the site of Mohammedia.

Palmeraie Country Club Casablanca

Palmeraie takes on Casablanca

After Marrakech, Palmeraie Développement is continuing its expansion in Morocco with the opening, a little over a year ago, of PalmGolf Casablanca, an all-sports club in Bouskoura.

In addition to an 18-hole golf course designed by Talbot and Nelson & Haworth, there are tennis courts, padel courts, an outdoor Olympic pool and an indoor pool, soccer, basketball and handball courts...

Nice clubhouse and excellent cuisine by chef Benjamin Brau-Nogue. Note that the last hole of the course is a par 3 with a green protected by water, and the driving range is totally away from the tee of the 1st.

Finally, the Golf Academy is directed by the former champion, Fayçal Serghini.

Casa Green Bouskoura

Casa Green Golf Club is an exceptional site that will become a reference for the city of Casablanca. At the center of the new project of Casa Green Town, the golf course straddles the forest of Bouskoura with a pleasantly hilly topography, a few minutes from the business district of Sidi Maarouf.

The par 72 course, covering a total area of 92 hectares, was designed by internationally renowned golf architect Jeremy Pern. The course combines traditional Scottish links aspects with typical Moroccan landscape elements such as wadis and desert areas. The wide, green fairways weave between sparkling lakes and ecological nature areas.

The large terrace of the clubhouse offers breathtaking views of the lakes and 15 of the course's holes. The restaurant, with its magnificent setting, will become one of the great places of Casablanca gastronomy. With 2500 m2 of surface, the modern architecture of the clubhouse offers a fluid, refined and contemporary environment.

Tony Jacklin Bouskoura

The Tony Jacklin Casablanca is a young club marked by the Throne Cup (club championship in Morocco).

This golf course in Bouskoura, a suburb of Casablanca, was inaugurated in 2014 by hosting an edition of the Throne Cup. Three years later, the club won the competition.

The course, designed by Tony Jacklin, allows for the famous "bump and run" style of play, which is possible when no bunker prevents a ball from rolling to the green.

A few water hazards are nevertheless scattered around the course. The most dreaded are on the 6th, a par 3 with its island green bordered by a low stone wall, and on the 14th, a par 4 with a delicate green attack.

Golf Royal El Jadida

The Royal Golf El Jadida Morocco opened in 1993, this magnificent course winds its way through a forest of eucalyptus trees, with the sweet smell of acacia and the splendor of araucarias.

The outward journey offers tempting but deceptive holes. The return is more conciliatory except from number 16 because the last three holes, bordering the Atlantic Ocean like a links, are not without problems in strong winds.

Located along the Atlantic coast, this superb course was designed by Cabell B. Robinson and is undoubtedly one of the jewels of Morocco's golfing heritage.

Wide and narrow fairways, a varied course where you can have fun whatever your handicap.

Between ocean and forest, the Pullman Royal Golf of EL Jadida offers one of the most beautiful and prestigious 18-hole courses in Morocco.

Work of the famous Cabell B Robinson, it is drawn along the bay of EL Jadida on 120 ha with a course of 6226 meters.

Mazagan Golf & Beach Resort

A links course by Player

The 18 holes of the Mazagan Golf & Beach Resort, at the northern exit of El Jadida, are part of a very large resort owned by the Kerzner International Group, the number one in the South African tourism industry.

Designed by Gary Player, who signed his first project in Morocco, the golf course is a real links with fairways and greens that weave their way through the dunes covered with witches' claws.

From all the holes of the course, you can see the Atlantic Ocean, but on the 15th, the signature par 3, you hit your tee shot facing the ocean rollers.

A restaurant, the George, awaits you in the clubhouse for a lunch on the terrace facing the sea.

Royal Palm

Mauritian excellence

The Royal Palm, which includes a golf course, a 5-star hotel and a luxurious real estate program, was designed and created by the Mauritians of the Beachcomber Group.

For them, attention to detail is paramount, and it shows. Designed by Cabell B. Robinson and landscaped by the former director of golf, former European Tour pro Michel Besanceney, the Fairmont Royal Palm Marrakech is one of the most beautiful and well-maintained golf courses in the Red City.

Since last year, a beautifully decorated clubhouse allows golfers to play a 19th hole closer to the fairways.

Royal Golf Marrakech

To play at the Royal Golf Marrakech is to dive into the history of this sport. In the 1920s, the Pasha El Glaoui had a course built on the road to Ouarzazate.

An 18-hole course that was designed by a duo of French pros: Arnaud Massy and Gustave Golias.

Today, the Old Course is a real botanical garden with 15,000 trees and offers a refreshing stroll in the torpor of Marrakech.

For the anecdote, let us quote the famous par 3 nicknamed Brigitte Bardot. You have to play it to understand its meaning.

Since 2008, another 9 holes, the New Course, has been recently added, created by the duo Thierry Sprecher and Gery Watine.

Samanah Golf Club

The name Nicklaus has something magical about it, even if the Blond Bear has nothing to do with the realization of Samanah.

It is his firm, Nicklaus Design, which was responsible for building this 18-hole course on the road to Amizmiz. Whenever pros come to train in Marrakech, it is always the Samanah golf course that they choose for its layout and the quality of its greens.

With its 6,800 meters of back marks, it is the longest course in the Red City. The wadi and the lakes require to be fine strategist to score well. The only drawback is that the villas whose construction has been abandoned spoil the landscape a little.

Riad Almaha Marrakech

Almaha Marrakech is an indulgent artists' retreat: a riad hotel that brings together generations of traditional Moroccan craftsmanship and contemporary art in rhythm - the beauty of order.

The soft glow of polished tadelakt on tactile Bedouin textiles, the glow of candles on burnished metal, a landscape rendered in a multitude of silk pixels... Inspired by Baudelaire's poem Invitation au voyage, Charles Kaisin has created interiors designed to move the soul and captivate the senses.

The quintessential Marrakech experience, just a 15-minute drive from Menara Airport: walk through the pink walls of the medina, get lost in a labyrinth of alleys and you've arrived at a bygone era. A haven of order and beauty awaits you behind an unpretentious door: cross the threshold and discover the boutique-hotel Almaha.

Located in the heart of the Kasbah - the oldest part of Marrakech, where the royal stables once stood - Almaha is perfectly placed to explore the mysteries of the medina, its exotic souks and lively squares, and, beyond the red city, to visit the desert and the Atlas Mountains.

Marrakech's best sights are within walking distance: see the centuries-old stucco and zellige in the beautiful Saadian tombs; marvel at the mighty minaret of the Koutoubia Mosque; stroll through Jemaa el-Fna Square with its smoke-filled food stalls, conjurers, musicians and snake charmers; explore the Jewish Mellah district; see the sumptuous Bahia Palace. Your peaceful riad retreat is never far away...

Samanah Golf Club

The name Nicklaus has something magical about it, even if the Blond Bear has nothing to do with the realization of Samanah.

It is his firm, Nicklaus Design, which was responsible for building this 18-hole course on the road to Amizmiz.

Whenever pros come to train in Marrakech, it is always the Samanah golf course that they choose for its layout and the quality of its greens.

With its 6,800 meters of back marks, it is the longest course in the Red City.

The wadi and the lakes require to be fine strategist to score well.

The only drawback is that the villas whose construction has been abandoned spoil the landscape a little.

Noria Golf Club

In Marrakech, the Noria knows how to distinguish itself from the other clubs in the Red City. On former sugar plantations, architect Steve Forrest has played with the codes and traditions of rural life to create an original golf course.

Upon arrival at the clubhouse, shaped like a Bedouin tent, you face the arrival of holes 9 and 18 with perfectly symmetrical and rectangular greens, two holes separated from their start by a khattara.

Then, you meet a tower in cob, a well, a water wheel called noria... A real invitation to travel.

Assoufid Golf Club

The strength of the Assoufid golf course is that it looks nothing like what already exists in Marrakech.

Located 10 kilometers from the city, this golf course whose vocation was real estate now has only the countryside and the peaks of the Atlas as a backdrop.

Designed by Niall Cameron, the 18-hole course is a "desert golf course" with many "waste areas", a kind of vast space that is not considered a bunker.

Only 45% of the golf course is seeded, saving expensive watering.

Recognized as the best golf course in Africa in 2017, Assoufid has no water hazards, just a dry wadi that runs through several holes. Enough to complicate the score of the visitors.

Amelkis Golf Club

The first golf course in Marrakech designed by Cabell B. Robinson, Amelkis Golf Club, located on the road to Ouarzazate, across from the Royal Golf Marrakech, is a 27-hole course that weaves its way through a very successful real estate development.

With its lakes, lacy bunkers and waste-areas (sandy areas that are not considered bunkers), the golf course is an excellent test of golf.

What also strikes the visitor is the clubhouse built like a Kasbah. This club has already hosted professional events: the Moroccan Open, Lalla Aïcha Tour School and events of the Atlas Pro Tour.

Kenzi Menara Palace Marrakech

A privileged location in the ochre city

Facing the ramparts and the royal gardens of the Agdal, Kenzi Menara Palace offers a privileged location in the ochre city. Ten minutes from the mythical Jamaa El Fna square, the old colonial district of Guéliz and the main golf courses. The Kenzi Menara is located in the heart of the most important tourist attractions of Marrakech.

Space and horizon are the key words characterizing this flagship of the Moroccan hotel industry. Built in a lush five-hectare park, the Kenzi Menara has an architecture superbly inspired by the Arab-Moorish style. The patios reminiscent of traditional riads are combined with perspectives and volumes making this property an exceptional place.

Accommodation

The opulent splendor of Marrakech

Facing the Atlas Mountains, each of the 236 rooms and suites of the Kenzi Menara offers 55 m² with terrace, the largest available in their category in Marrakech, a comfort rarely equaled.

Inspired by the Arab-Andalusian tradition, the impressive architecture is astonishing, while the decoration plays on the contrast of materials and colors: the strength of wenge wood rubs shoulders with the softness of tadelakt, combining oriental charm and modern luxury.

Al Maaden Golf Club

It was in Marrakech, at Al Maaden that Kyle Phillips, a fashionable golf architect, designed his first golf course in Morocco.

On this course with geometric basins, art is never far away. At the entrance to the golf course, there is the Macaal, a museum of contemporary African art, and on the course, monumental sculptures accompany you throughout your stroll.

Opened in 2010, Al Maaden has recently redone all its bunkers, now filled with a white marble powder. This course has also hosted Lalla Aïcha Tour School and Atlas Pro Tour tournaments.

Golf de Mogador

Originally, Essaouira should have attracted more sailors than golfers. But since the opening of the Mogador golf course in the small village of Diabat and the airport, golfers have made this destination one of their favorite spots.

Not only is the golf course at the foot of the Sofitel magnificent, but the city of Essaouira offers just as many attractions to seduce visitors. Today, the golf course has 31 holes (18 for the North course, 13 for the South course), all designed by the great South African champion, Gary Player.

Nestled in the dunes planted with gnarled shrubs, the golf course knows how to be formidable when the wind rises. And when you know that the strength of Essaouira is the wind ...
